

Prader-Willi Syndrome Association of Alberta

Presents special author Terry James

It's that time of the year again, please come out to meet other families and share stories. This year we have invited Terry James to come speak to our members. He is from BC and the author of the book, Prader-Willi Syndrome Home, School and Community which was written in 1992. He has now written two more books called, PWS Quality of Life as well PWS Growing Older. Terry interviewed 25 Alberta families for his book as well as many others and loves to keep in contact with all of them. Please join us in welcoming Terry and his wife to our province and association. Terry will speak to us as well as have time for questions. We will have some of his books to give away to those that attend and that are current paid members.

Annual General Meeting

The board and a few of our members attended a weekend retreat last fall to discuss the future of our association. Come and find out what has been decided and vote on the changes. We are also looking for new board members and a Treasurer. Please consider becoming part of the team.
